SALT LAKE FIGHTING OVER THE CAPITOL GROUNDS

Salt Lake, Dec. 12.—A difference of opinion between the city's engineering department and the capitol commission will probably result in long delay before the contract for the state building is awarded.

Richard R. Kletting, architect, who won the competition in plans for the big structure, has suggested changes in the original specifications, prepared by Olmsted Bros. engineers, for grading the capitol grounds. Where Mr. Kletting contemplates a cut of 40 feet, D. H. Blossom, city engineer, thinks 22 1/2 feet, if not less, would be sufficient.

Meanwhile property owners in the vicinity are wondering what will be done. Some of them hope to dispose of their holdings to the state.

Mr. Kletting's plans contemplate the purchase of considerable ground on the east side of the proposed building. Mr. Blossom is waiting for a decision from the capitol commission that he may proceed with the grading of Columbus street, a matter which has been under discussion about two years. The engineering department has established grades, but no action on them has been taken by the city commission, which is awaiting the outcome of the capitol commission's deliberations.

Two other elements enter into the delay. Mr. Kletting is making changes in the plans of the building, the commission's idea being that as the lowest bid was $1,100,000, instead of the expected $1,800,000, there will be sufficient money for considerable improvements. More granite and marble may be used than specified at first.

And Attorney General A. R. Barnes says it is intended to have a full attendance of the capitol commission when the contract is awarded. Rarely do all the members attend a meeting. Even when the bids were opened there was no quorum. Governor William Spry and M. S. Browning are absent now. Recently Mr. Barnes was out of the city.

The capitol grounds are bounded by East Fourth North street on the north, East Capitol avenue on the east, Second North on the south and West Capitol avenue on the west. The plot is irregularly pentagonal. The 40-foot cut would be at the northeast corner, or junction of Fourth North street and East Capitol avenue. This would necessitate corresponding changes in the streets and adjoining lots. The reduction is so great to some of the property owners that they are appalled.

Mr. Kletting says there is no occasion for excitement, however; that to any one familiar with the topography out there it is not such a big engineering feat.

VIVIDLY DEPICTS THE STRIFE IN BALKANS
Salt Lake, Dec. 12.—N. P. Stathakos, a local Greek banker, addressed the history classes of the high school yesterday on the present war between Turkey and the Balkan states. Mr. Stathakos took up the general history of European Turkey, explaining briefly the terrible despotism of the Moslems, and foretold a hasty end of the Ottoman empire. The speaker made it plain that his remarks were not made as a Greek or as an American, but as a cosmopolitan man who had studied existing conditions for many years.

He said: "The Romans captured Greece, but later the Greeks regained their freedom, and for 1100 years, 325 to 1453, Constantinople was the capital city of the Greek empire. On May 29, 1453, the Turks captured Constantinople and proceeded to massacre and abuse the Christians, which they continued for four centuries."

Children Transformed.
To illustrate the terrible treatment meted out to his people by the Turks, Mr. Stathakos explained that an order was issued by the sultan for every Christian boy under 5 years of age to be imprisoned in the Turkish harems. Here they were educated in the Moslem faith and taught that to kill a Christian insured them a place in paradise. "These children," he said, "became the worst kind of Turks, and being so young when captured, they have never known their Christian parentage but have always been the first to kill a Christian."

The lecturer then showed the students a picture of the ruins of the Acropolis at Athens. These ruins, our relics of Greece's glory became ruins, as did all the country, but in that heap of ashes there was concealed a spark, "the spark of liberty." This spark was in every Greek regardless of his temporary residence, and in 1821 Greece rebelled. In this revolution the United States helped Greece materially, which favors will never be forgotten.

Mr. Stathakos explained a "friendly society" founded by five Greek merchants, which grew to include every Greek in the world and influenced patriotism a great deal. The revolution of 1821 was for the expulsion of Turks from Greece, but after seven years of war, in which about one and one-half millions of soldiers were killed, the powers met and declared the freedom of one-fifth of all Greece. Rumanian, Serbian, Montenegrin and Bulgarian independence followed, but these little kingdoms wished to see their brothers free also. European powers never let them proceed to arms, however, turning a deaf ear to all their appeals. The Greeks who were free did much for their oppressed countrymen by establishing schools and doing all in their power to relieve the burden.

Young Turks Disappointed.
In 1908, when the Young Turks came into power, the Christians of the Balkan states hoped they would keep the promises of their constitution, but they proved more severe than the old regime. The Christians had no rights and never received justice in a Turkish court. These reasons, with the memory of past ill-treatment, caused the Balkan states to unite in the present war, which is a sacred war, as they are fighting for humanity, progress and liberty. After citing the cruelty of the Turks in the present war when they poured hot oil on the wounds of 200 children whose hands they had cut, and burned villages after villages, Mr. Stathakos closed by congratulating the boys and girls born under the Stars and Stripes and urging them to be ready at all times to fight for their country.

FRED T. MCGURRIN CHARGED WITH FRAUD
Salt Lake, Dec. 12.—A complaint charging Fred T. McGurkin, a prominent local attorney, with obtaining money under false pretenses, was issued by the county attorney late yesterday afternoon. A warrant for the arrest of McGurkin, who is said to be in California, is out.

It is charged that McGurkin sold land belonging to the Southern Pacific railroad and collected first payments from eleven men, all residents of Holladay, and that he had no option or authority to make the sale. The total amount of money he is said to have obtained is $2,552.

The complaining witness against McGurkin is Edwin B. Harper of Holladay, who swears that he was induced to pay McGurkin $240 as first payment on a section of land in Clover valley, Nev., which proved later to have been sold by the Southern Pacific company to another person. McGurkin is said to have represented himself as right of way agent of the railroad, and to have declared that he held options on the land.

Complaints against McGurkin were made to the county attorney two months ago and it was only after thorough investigation that the formal complaint was issued yesterday.

Mr. Willey received a letter from B. A. McCallister, land commissioner of the Southern Pacific railroad, yesterday informing him that much of the land involved in the alleged swindle already has been sold by the railroad to other concerns and that so far as he knew McGurkin held no authority to sell the land nor had he options upon any part of it. With this information at hand the county attorney allowed the complaint to issue.

Others besides Mr. Harper, who were victims of the alleged swindle, and the amounts they lost, are: H. H. Stevenson, $28; A. J. Wagstaff, $24; John A. North, $24; M. F. Davis, $24; J. James, $24; Orson Andrews, $25; Samuel Blaine, $24; Charles Clarkson, $152; and W. W. Stout, $25.

BURGLAR WOUNDS MAN WHO DISOBEYS
Salt Lake, Dec. 12.—William Campbell, the houseman at the home of A. W. McCune Sr., First North and Main streets, received a bullet through the hand when he ignored the order of a burglar to throw up his hands at 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

The burglar made his escape and wounded man was taken to the emergency hospital at police headquarters, where he received surgical attention. The wound was not serious.

After having made his way into the McCune home the burglar was discovered by one of the women of the household and it was when he was faced in the hallway by Campbell that the shooting took place. Nothing was found to have been taken.

The shot aroused the neighborhood and the police were quickly notified, but the man could not be found. A good description of him was given by Mrs. McCune and Campbell, and it is believed that the police may pick him up.

OLD GRAND JURY IS DISCHARGED
Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 12.—Utterances by attaches of the district attorney's office today indicated that the probe of the bribery transactions in connection with the trial of James E. McNamara, dynamiter, would be taken up before a new grand jury, which will convene before January 6, the date set for the second trial of Clarence S. Darrow.

At the close of a year's activity the old grand jury tendered its final report today and its members were discharged by the court.

WEALTHY PEOPLE CALLED TO SERVE
Independence, Kan., Dec. 12.—Two of the wealthiest and most prominent women of this city were summoned today to serve on a jury in the case of James Blue, charged with firing a shot through the window of an interurban car near here, endangering the lives of the passengers.

Among the women summoned are the wives of two millionaire oil operators, two bankers' wives and two suffragist leaders.

STATE NEWS

PUREBRED HORSES BRING HIGH PRICES

Lewiston, Ida., Dec. 13.—Despite the inclement weather conditions that prevailed yesterday in the Lewiston and Clarkston valley, the crowds at the Northwest Live Stock show were large. The events of yesterday's proceedings were almost exclusively confined to the auction sales, at which were sold the purebred animals and prize winners at this exhibition. Several thousand persons yesterday surrounded the show ring and eagerly watched the prices for high-bred stallions soar, and the breeders were lustily cheered when record money was paid for their animals.

Thirty-one head of horses, bringing $21,520, were sold yesterday afternoon. The highest priced stallion, bred and raised by Follet & Scholer of Genesee, Ida., brought $1,925. There were several hundred bidders in the city from all parts of the northwest. Yesterday was Idaho-Washington Development league day. The organization was host last night to the members of the Northwest Livestock association. The banquet was served to 100 persons and was given under the supervision of the department of domestic science of the Lewiston High school, which won the sweepstakes prize at Lethbridge, Alberta.

The show will close this afternoon when the sale of purebred cattle will be held. The officers of the association will be elected tonight.

EX-CONVICT ARRESTED
Boise, Ida., Dec. 13.—George Wooley, alias George McWille, alias George Moore, has been arrested at York, Pa., on the charge of forgery and Chief of Police Reeves is expected to return with him the latter part of this week.

Wooley was first sent to the state penitentiary here for grand larceny committed in Bannock county. After serving four years he was given a parole, but immediately violated its terms by returning to his eastern home. A race across the continent followed and Wooley was captured and had to serve the two remaining years of his sentence.

He had hardly left the state penal institution a second time than it is alleged, he forged the name of A. Bartlett to a check for $100.00, which, it is said, he cashed at the First National bank of Idaho in this city. He then went east. Wooley was captured at his home in York and Chief of Police Reeves is now returning with him.

JANITORS TO HOLD CONVENTION.
Brigham City, Dec. 13.—A janitors' convention is the latest for Box Elder county. It might be a new thing in many larger centers. The board of education intends to instruct its janitors and heating plant operators so that uniform methods will be applied to the schools of the county.

The convention will meet at 10 a. m. Saturday morning, December 21, in the high school, Ed A. Folland, superintendent of buildings of the Salt Lake schools, has been engaged to instruct Box Elder county janitors.

It is the purpose of the board of education to have the Box Elder men instructed on how to get the most efficiency in labor, most heat from the least fuel and uniform ventilation.

The board has also extended an invitation to all public and private heating plant operators to attend.

Clergyman Praises Eckman's Alternative
A Valuable Remedy for Throat and Lungs.

People who have Consumption are often filled with bright hopes of recovery, only to realize that improvement is but temporary. Consumption is dreaded by every one. Those who had it and used Eckman's Alternative can testify to its beneficial effects. No one need doubt it—there is plenty of evidence from live witnesses. Investigate the following:

"Gentlemen: Prior to Feb. 1905, I was located in Rochester, N. Y., suffering with La Grippe, which developed into Tuberculosis. My physician gave me one month to live. I was having terrible night sweats and mid-day chills and losing flesh rapidly, having gone from 155 to 135 pounds. I coughed and raised continually and became so weak that walking a few feet exhausted me. On my return home, my regular physician gave me a little encouragement. My father, who is a clergyman, heard of Eckman's Alternative and induced me to take it. The night sweats and chills disappeared, my cough became easier and gradually diminished and in a few days I developed an appetite, the first in months. I am now in perfect health, back to 155 pounds. I feel certain that I owe my life to Eckman's Alternative."

(Signed) E. H. COWLES.
Pastor, Presbyterian Church.
Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles and in up-building the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Cave Drug Co., Marshall Drug Co., Culley Drug Co., A. R. McIntyre, T. H. Carr and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet, telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence. (Advertisement.)

GIRL ASKS POLICE TO CARE FOR MONEY
New York, Dec. 12.—Miss Ellen Bart, a young stenographer, called at an uptown police station today to ask the police to take charge of a newspaper which she had picked up on the floor of a Third Avenue elevated train. The desk lieutenant was somewhat astonished by her request, until he opened the paper, to find more than $200 in greenbacks of small denomination carefully folded away between the pages.

If the owner does not claim the money within 30 days it will be returned to Miss Bart.
